Jet Effect: Air Traffic Falls for First Time in 6 Years in April

Mumbal: Air traffic in India, considered one of the fastest gro-wing aviation markets in the world, fell for the first time in six years in April, the month Jet Airways stopped operations.

The grounding of India's oldest airline, however, helped bigger rival IndiGo get control of 50% of the domestic market, with Air In-dia and SpiceJet following with much smaller shares.

dia and SpiceJet following with much smaller shares.

In April, Indian carriers flew 11.3 million passengers locally 11.3 million passengers locally down by about 2% from the same month last year, according to data released by the country's auton regulator, the Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA).

The last time air traffic had declined was in June 2013—down 13% year-on year to 486 million passengers, after Vijay Mallya's
