Amazon: Still Early Days in Markets like India, to Invest More

Co logs $1.7 b losses in its overseas biz in O2

Numberwise

Amazon recorded a net loss of $2 billion on net sales of $121 billion in Q2

It had posted a net profit of $7.7 billion and sales of $113 billion a year earlier

Bengaluru: Amazon said it was still early days for its international business, including in India, as the ecommerce glant recorded a St.7 billion in the second quarter of 2022 compared with a profit of $82 million a year earlier. Sales too dropped at the US company's international business to a little over $27 billion in the three months ended June 30 from $30 billion. "Broadly speaking, of what's going on with that business and the losses we're seeing there and the investments, I think it's important you will be a seeing there and the investments, I think it's important of our emerging or more recent launch countries such as India, Brazil, the Middle East," Amazon investor relations director Days Fildes said on a post-earning scall. Germany, the UK and Japan are considered established international markets for the Seattle-based ecommerce major. In our emerging document we've done to drive expansion. We expect to continue to do that given the strong competition across many of these markets," Fildes said.

In June, Amazon India's country manager for the consumer business, Manish Tiwary, told ET that the company of would double down on so
