

Adani Transmission Plans $500m Dollar Bond Issue

Our Bureau

Mumbai: Adani Transmission aims to raise up to $500 million (about ₹3,300 crore) through the issue of foreign currency bonds to refinance its debt, the company said on Thursday.

The company informed the bourses that US dollar-denominated bonds may be issued through private placement in one or more tranches overseas, and that these bonds may be listed in any one or more stock exchanges in India or overseas.

"We are considering the external borrowing for refinancing our existing external debt and masala bonds," chief executive officer Anil Sardana said.

Separately, the company's board also approved buyback of existing non-convertible debentures (NCDs) and INR bonds (masala bond) totalling ₹2,290 crore.

The company will launch the roadshows for the issue on Friday and aims to declare the pricing by November 11.

Adani Transmission posted a consolidated net profit of ₹230 crore in the second quarter of 2019-20 as against ₹90 crore a year ago, driven by the electricity distribution business and the seven new transmission projects it commissioned in FY19.

The firm's total income was ₹2,638.32 crore in the quarter ended September compared with ₹1,462.66 crore a year ago.

The company has a cumulative transmission network of more than 14,738 circuit kms, of which more than 11,477 circuit kms is operational.

Co's board also okayed buyback of existing NCDs and INR bonds totalling ₹2,290 crore
